INTRODUCTION

Introduction & Purpose

The USA Historical AFV Register is intended to provide a cataloging of all of the historical Armored Fighting Vehicles (AFV), including tanks, APCs and self-propelled artillery, etc that are on preserved or otherwise displayed in museums or as monuments in the United States. As such the registry ranges from the World War I-era Skeleton Tank to modern M1 Abrams tanks. However, the registry is not intended to include modern AFVs that are still in service.

Format

The USA Historical AFV Register is organized by state and city or town as follows.

STATE

CITY OR TOWN

Location (GPS Coordinates)

AFV Model Man./User status Notes and/or location

Man./User denotes the original manufacturer (country) and various users, using three letter country codes.

Status is denoted by one of the following codes.

std = stored (this can be either indoor our outdoor storage, but clearly not on display)

wre = wreck (typically vehicles recovered from a target range or simply in very bad condition)

res = restoration (currently under restoration)

Often, if there are a large number of AFVs on display in a particular town or military post, sub listings are also provided, organized by location - museum, building, road, etc.

Many of the vehicles listed as "Unconfirmed" are from the "Central Registry" of donated vehicles maintained by the U.S. Army's Tank-automotive and Armaments Command (TACOM). Many of these vehicles donated to American Legion and VFW Posts may actually be located in local parks. Additionally, many of the "Unconfirmed" World War II era vehicles – such as Sherman and Stuart tanks – have since been moved or may no longer exist.

Additional information about a particular vehicle is often included in footnotes.

Serial Numbers (SN) and Registration Numbers, aka "USA" numbers (RN) are given when available. Note that many M60 tanks have two SNs, the original one as built and an Anniston Army Depot (AAD) rebuild SN (which ends in an A) or a Mainz Army Depot (MAD) SN (which ends in an M). For British and Canadian WWII era vehicles, War Department (WD) Numbers are given when known, as are post-war Vehicle Registration Numbers (VRN) for British vehicles.

Sources

The USA Historical AFV Register is compiled from a number of sources. Firstly, the register is an expansion of Leslie Delsing's Wrecks and Relics in the USA tank registry, posted to the AFV News Discussion Board on 22 May 2006. The register has also been greatly expanded thanks to armyjunk2 and his copy of the TACOM Central Registry. Some of the other notable online sources include the Waymarking Military Ground Equipment Displays site, the former Tanks for the Memories geocaching site, The Sherman Register, Toadman's Tank Pictures, Trevor Larkum's Preserved Tanks, Robert Buettner's War Memorials of Wisconsin, and Don Moriarty's The History of the Ontos as well as forums and message groups such as the AFV News Discussion Board, G104 (the Sherman Register mailing list), G103 (dedicated to Stuart tanks), and G136 (dedicated to M8 Greyhound and M20 armored cars). Where possible, the origin of information on a particular vehicle is denoted in footnotes. A large number of individual contributors, many of which are credited throughout the registry, have provided invaluable information.

Note

All Serial Numbers, Registration Numbers, War Department Numbers, Vehicle Registration Numbers, etc come from the public domain or directly from the owner with permission. Public domain includes publicly visible areas of the vehicle (commonly stamped or marked on the exterior) when on display, data plates if visible/open to display, or other public domain forums and sources (such as reference works, the AFV News Discussion Board, G104, Sherman Register, etc).

Special thanks

Special thanks goes to Pierre-Olivier Buan and Silvio Iacuone, who took the time to check this version for errors and added both valuable information.

⁵⁶ Formerly at National Museum of the U.S. Marine Corps, Museum Storage, Quantico, VA. The oldest picture shows the tank when it was recovered at Camp LeJeune NC, in 2003 or 2004 (?abcovey?).

⁵⁷ "Goin Home". SN by Chris Hughes, built as an M4A3(76) HVSS in April, 1945. It's not an M4A3(105) HVSS "with the 76mm turret probably added after WW2" as Joe DeMarco suggested

⁵⁸ "Saint", Sold december 2023 by Tracks and Trade. This ex-Finnish tank, RN Ps. 252-33, was offered in an auction in September 2007. It has its original war time registration T335817. It has the 'B' type hull (A34 Comet Mk 1 Model B). This vehicle was built in late 1944 and delivered in the beginning of 1945 with British registration number T335817. This is one of the 40 Comets that went to Finland in 1960. This Comet was the 92nd build by Fowler under the contract licence M10536, where 350 Comets were ordered, but only 150 were built.

¹⁴³ Painted RN 3043438, build by Massey-Harris 6/1943

¹⁴⁴ Built by Fisher as a M4A3(75) VVSS in December 1944 (Jim Goetz). Of interest on that unit is that the spacers for the gun travel lock were apparently removed from a Jumbo & retrofitted to a regular M4A3 hull. This seems like more trouble than it would have been worth simply to make a display tank. It may have been done by a remanufacturing firm to make a useable post war Sherman.

¹⁵⁸ NON DV, manufactured by ALCO in April, 1943.

¹⁵⁹ Formerly at NACM, Fort Benning, before that at Gaffney Hall (Building 2369), Fort Knox KY

¹⁶⁰ BRACHA was acquired and joined the WW2 Armor stables in September 2016; previously owned by the well renowned collector the late Fred Ropkey, founder of the Ropkey Armor Museum in Crawfordsville, Indiana (previous stenciled name ?COCKY? prior to joining WW2 Armor). BRACHA is a 76mm M18 Gun Motor Carriage (GMC) Hellcat tank destroyer and its name BRACHA means ?blessing? in Yiddish. BRACHA served in WWII and during the Battle of the Bulge in the winter of 1944, but it is unknown what unit she served with. Following WWII, BRACHA eventually found its way in the service of the Yugoslavian National Army, and fought in its second war during the Yugoslav Civil Wars (1991-2001) and served on active duty status until 2001. Between the two wars BRACHA does show extensive battle damage and small arms ricochets around her hull and right turret exterior sponson. After her retirement, BRACHA was part of a batch of vehicles purchased and exported to the United Kingdom and eventually made it back home to the U.S. under the care and ownership of Mr. Ropkey. BRACHA is stenciled as the 704th Tank Destroyer Battalion, which was attached to the 4th Armored Division throughout the ETO in WWII, and was the first M18 Hellcat tank destroyer battalion to land in the ETO. BRACHA is one of 2,507 M18 GMC Hellcats built by the Buick Division of General Motors in Flint, Michigan; although 650 were converted to M39 Armored Utility Vehicles by removing the turret and main gun and reconfiguring the open crew compartment to carry personnel or equipment. Following WWII most M18 GMC Hellcats, however, were refurbished and sold to other countries to included Greece, China, and Yugoslavia, with some M18s remaining in service into 2001. BRACHA is Serial Number 769 with an original Registration Number of 40108862 and was built in December 1943 under production order T-6641 (order consisted of 1,000 M18 Hellcats built between July 1943 ? January 1944). BRACHA was one of 684 Hellcats (S/N 685 ? 1096) built in the original configuration throughout December 1943, and was returned to Buick in February 1944 to be modified with the redesigned gear ratio before being deployed overseas. 650 of the 684 returned M18 Hellcats would later be reconfigured into M39 Armored Utility Vehicles, BRACHA was one of 34 that was not and was shipped to the European Theater of Operations CIRCA mid-1944 (WW2 Armor on facebook).

¹⁶² Built by Fisher in May, 1944. This tank is from the first batch of 300 M36s produced by Fisher between April and July, 1944, and that served in Europe from September, 1944

¹⁶⁴ Comes from a private collection in West Los Angeles, CA

¹⁶⁵ Sold september 2020

¹⁶⁶ This M4A2 was built in May 1945 by Fisher Body in Grand Blanc, MI, and is Serial Number 69361 with a U.S. Registration Number of 30129840. This tank was part of production order T-13901 and was built alongside 1299 other M4A2(76)W HVSS Shermans, and was one of the last 200 M4A2 Shermans built by Fisher Body. It is armed with the 76mm L/55 M1A2 main gun housed in the T23 turret, and is powered by the General Motors 6046D dual-diesel (twin 6-71) engine. While the tank was intended to go to the Soviet Union as part of Lend-Lease, it remained in the United States until it was sold to Canada in May 1946 with 193 other M4A2(76)W HVSS Sherman medium tanks at a price of $1,460 for each tank. Once it arrived in Canada it was issued a Department of National Defense Canadian Forces Registration Number of 78-898. The tank served in the Canadian Regular Force (active-duty) Army until the adoption of the Centurion tank in 1958. The M4A2s were then transferred to Canadian Army Reserve armoured units. This tank served in British Columbia assigned to the British Columbia Dragoons until it along with the other M4A2 Shermans were officially retired from service in the mid-1970s. Approximately 50 of the M4A2s on the registry were selected to become monuments throughout Canada, with this M4A2 destined to reside in Harrison Hot Springs, British Columbia. Those not selected were destined to become tank range targets. Unfortunately, the memorial did not come to fruition and the tank fell into disrepair and gutted until it was acquired and fully restored to her former glory by a dedicated military vehicle enthusiast and colleagues. Over the years the tank was sold and transferred to various collections between Canada and then eventually in the United States; to include the Littlefield Collection until 2014.

¹⁶⁷ Built by Chrysler in October, 1944. Formerly owned by Fred Ropkey. When the tank was restored, the Serial Number was painted as the USMC Registration Number, but this is incorrect as this RN was not used for a USMC Sherman. The USMC had its own registration number system, which towards the end of WW2, consisted of 6 digits, beginning with "10". Renamed Fred in his honor

¹⁶⁸ Formerly part of Richard Moran Collection, MA (USA). Sn calculated from the painted RN (??), used to be named Babs

¹⁶⁹ Named Kohen.

²⁵⁶ built by Chrysler in April, 1943 (USA AFVs register). It was one of the tanks sent to York Safe & Lock for conversion to a T6 swimming device vehicle. It had a small number of spigot mortars added for beach obstacle clearance (Kurt Laughlin). Originally part of the Aberdeen Proving Ground Ordnance Museum collection, later transferred to the Marine Air-Ground Museum at Quantico, and now in the Patton Museum Collection (Joe DeMarco). The tracks with duckbills has been removed from this tank and serve to restore the Sherman Jumbo ?Cobra King? in its original Dec. 1944 configuration (Don Moriarty)

²⁵⁷ Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky. 1 of 2 M51 Isherman in US

²⁵⁸ This Jagdtiger was produced in October 1944. It was attached to the s.Pz.Jg.Abt 653 and had the vehicle number 331. It was captured near Neustadt an der Weinstraße, Germany in March 1945. Damage is still visible on the gunmantlet, glacis plate, and lower nose armor. This vehicle used the late version 9 tooth sprocket ring, for use with the 'contact shoe' and 'connector link' style continuous track it shared with the Tiger II (Wikipedia).The story of this tank can be read here:

<http://armorfortheages.com/MilitaryVehicles/JagdTiger/JagdTiger.html>

²⁵⁹ Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky. Unrestored, no tracks, mocked-up exhausts and no commander's hatch. Appears to be a very late production vehicle, with the foliage loops on the turret side.

²⁶⁰ The unit this vehicle was assigned to during World War II has never been officially known until now. Recently acquired photographic evidence proves that the 234/4 was once part of Panzerkorps Feldherrnhalle and was surrendered to U.S. forces in southern Czechoslovakia in 1945 (Garry Redmon).

²⁷⁰ Spähpanzer Luchs early model/prototype. Built between 1968 and 1975 as recon vehicle with experience carried over from wartime 8 x 8 vehicles she sported a 20 mm cannon with speeds on up to 90 kph and was designed with silent running in mind. The difference between this and production model are subtle, the shape between the road-wheels is triangular and not squared off, the escape hatches are smaller and not beveled in with release handles. the front is flatter with a single towing distinct towing mount between the eyelets. The nose upper and right/left sides are more angles and similar to the BTR in some ways as well as forward mounting grips(Ed Webster on Facebook). Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky

²⁹² Railhead 9/2005, Identified by Joe DeMarco (G104, 8/2003)

²⁹³ This Panzer II ausf F was once part of Panzer-Abteilung 190 in the 90. Liechte Division in North Africa. It was captured, along with an SdKfz 233 8-wheel armored car by the U.S. 1st Ranger Battalion at El Guettar, Tunisia in the Spring of 1943. After its capture, it was painted with U.S. markings. The Panzer II was shipped to the Aberdeen Proving Grounds for trials and placed in the Ordnance Museum collection after the war (Garry Redmon). This tank was on loan to the Panzermuseum Munster (Germany) and was brought back to the USA in June 2012 (Don Moriarty)

²⁹⁴ Formerly behind the Patton Museum

²⁹⁵ This particular vehicle, hull number 280243 and with the tactical number 332, belonged to the Schwere SS Panzerabteilung 501 (Heavy SS Tank Unit 501) which was part of the infamous Kampfgruppe Peiper. Though dominating in its appearance and firepower, the story of 332 highlights the flaws of the King Tiger design: 75 years ago today on 18 December 1944, records show that 332 experienced "mechanical difficulties" and was abandoned along a road just east of the Belgian village of Coe. A week later, 332 would become U.S. Army property when the M4 Shermans of the U.S. 740th Tank Battalion cleared the area. After refueling, repairing, and recovery, 332 was the first fully operational King Tiger to make it back to the United States for testing and evaluation. Formerly at the Patton Museum, Fort Knox, Kentucky. Transferred from the Aberdeen Proving Ground Ordnance Museum in 1992 in exchange for MBT-70 Pilot No.3

²⁹⁶ This hull was recovered from a dump in Afghanistan in 2003, with another (more complete) Renault FT which can be seen above (Don Moriarty). It is currently being restored. The turret has been discovered at Fort Benning and recovered in February, 2017

²⁹⁷ built in 1941 by Ost. Saurerwerke AG

²⁹⁸ Formerly at the Patton Museum, Fort Knox, Kentucky. Very late version using steel track without rubberpads. This one was captured in May 1945 east of Prague (CZ). The vehicle belonged to PzAufklAbl 20 from the 20. PzDiv (Rudi Ehninger, Brigadier General (rtd) German Pz. truppe) and it wears the markings of this unit

This was the last of the seven V4 series Challenger prototypes and was used as a reference vehicle at RARDE Chertsey, then assigned to the Challenger development program, and finally as the Vickers Defence Systems reference vehicle, according to Richard Stickland (TankNet AFV Forum, 11/2007).

³⁰⁴ Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky

³⁰⁵ Comes from the Bureau of Alcohol Tobacco and Firearms, who had seized it at the port of entry from a collector. It had been imported legally, but the collector had, shall we say, "problems" with some of his other stuff and surrendered it and the rest of the stuff to avoid prosecution. It came with a spare engine, but the BATF wouldn't release it for some reason (Charles R. Lemons). Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky

³⁰⁶ Recently repainted. Sold to the Egyptians about 1960 and captured by the Israelis during the 1967 Six-Day War. The Israelis removed the engine from the damaged vehicle and made some modifications prior to installing it as a fixed emplacement on the Bar Lev Line. A T-54 engine deck was installed and other repairs were made, like installation of a dummy rear left sprocket, before it was given to the US as a gift (Ordnance Museum Guide CD).

³⁵⁸ Formerly at Patton Museum, Fort Knox KY

³⁵⁹ Built by Fisher Body in February 1945. Formerly at Keyes Park Fort Knox. Korean War colors. SN from Don Moriarty (AFV News Discussion Board, 2/2007).

³⁶⁰ Only surviving example, Would be RN 40226809. One of two T28 pilots built in 1945. Believed to be the first pilot, which was located at Aberdeen Proving Ground until at least 1946, then at Fort Belvoir by at least 1951. The T28 was "lost" for about 20 years (believed to have been scrapped) until it was found at the Combat Developments Research Lab range at Fort Belvoir in 1975. After its re-discovery, the T28 was recovered by the Patton Museum. The other, second T28 pilot is believed to have been destroyed by fire during testing at Yuma, Arizona 1946. Formerly at Keyes Park, Fort Knox KY

³⁶¹ Only T29E3 built. Formerly at RMP, Fort Knox, Kentucky and before that at Keyes Park

³⁷⁹ She was sent to Orchard Gunnery Complex from Anniston Army Depot to be used as hard targets. All these vehicles were part of the US Army Center of Military History Catalogue and registered. All were in storage, the M60A1 RISE is also very rare, almost all Army models being converted to Passive or M60A3.

³⁸⁰ She was one of the additional M60A1E2's made using an M60A1E1 turret. Her SN is an M60A1 number, From what I have found researching M60A2's, She was one of nine produced in 1969 to test the CBSS system. These tanks with a selected few from the 1967 purchase of M60A1E2's with the Open Breech Scavenge System converted to CBSS were used as Test Vehicles to what eventually became the M60A2. Her along with SN 5494, RN 9A93869, and an M551, M47, the M4 pictured, and an M60A1 RISE (SN 8826, RN JJ01VC) were sent to Orchard Gunnery Complex from Anniston Army Depot to be used as hard targets. ⁴⁰⁴ Built in 1943 by Auto-Union

⁴⁰⁵ Built in 1940 by Demag AG Werk Wetter Ruhr

⁴⁰⁶ Built by Demag AG in 1944 (Walter Schwabe). It was found in the 70's near Graz (Austria) in a scrap yard, alongside with a 251/1 Ausf.D and a 250/5 Ausf. B. It is a 250/1 ausf B from SS 5 Panzer "Wiking" Aufklärungsabteilung (Dmitry Bushmakow).

⁴⁰⁷ The vehicle is being fully restored. Actually this is not a 251 chassis but a SdKfz 11 one made by Borgward in 1943. This manufacturer did not make the chassis for 251, only the SdKfz 11 (Walter Schwabe)

⁴⁰⁸ Built in 1944 by Auto-Union. This Half-Track was previously on display in the Victory in Europe museum in Arlon (Belgium), and then was part of the Victory Museum, Auburn. The suspension, frame and motor are real, inside everything is incorrect and rudely made (Dimitri Bushmakow). Now the vehicle is taken apart and being restored (Walter Schwabe)

⁴²⁸ Converted to M36 by ALCO in November, 1944. Built by Fisher as M10A1 in November, 1943 with Serial Number 8351 (USA AFVs register). This is an ex-Yugoslavian Army vehicle, equipped with a T-55 engine. Formerly at Ft Bliss, TX.

⁴²⁹ "4th Armored Division General Sherman Tank Knocked Out During the Battle of the Bulge Dec. 16 1944 - Jan.23 1945" is painted on the (4 inch?) slabs of (German?) armor welded on the the hull sides. Battle of the Bulge casualty seems doubtful in that the up-armor process didn't commence until February. The glacis armor was taken directly from another Sherman, complete with hull lifting rings as well as headlamp and gun travel lock fittings. According to Joe DeMarco, with no prospect of further deliveries of Jumbos, in February 1945, the Third Army embarked on a program to "up-armor" its M4A3(76)s (P-O Buan).

⁴³⁰ Confirmed by Don Barker

⁴⁴¹ Has been built from an M4A3(75)

⁴⁴² It is one of 62 M3A3's known to have been built with defective armor. These M3A3's were kept in the U.S. during World War II as training vehicles. In order to make sure that these vehicles were not deployed to combat units, the words "For Training Only" was welded onto the hull sides. This vehicle was part of Jacques Littlefield Collection in California. This vehicle was sold during an auction in July, 2014

⁵²⁹ Built by Ford in may 1943 as a M10A1, RN 40469XX which is a Ford M10A1 registration. It was later converted to M36 probably by Montreal Locomotive Co. This is an ex-Yugoslavian Army vehicle, probably equipped with a T-55 engine. Has the E9 spaced out suspension. Serial by David D. Jackson

⁵³⁰ Built by Fisher in March 1944. The appliqué armor on the side was most probably applied to repair damage, as the tank might be a WW2 combat veteran. It was formerly displayed at Ferris Barracks, Erlangen, Germany (Joe DeMarco)

⁵⁵⁷ This is one of the few places where they actually have a power plant in the same place as the tank, and outdoors at that. Without trying to sound like a nitpicker, that engine/transmission combo is not for an M60 (A0). The engine is an AVDS-1790-2DA and the transmission is fitted with Hydro-mechanical brakes on the output shafts. It's a 2DA engine based on the 300 amp air cooled generator, easily identified by the air ducting running to the forward part of the engine from it. The large oil coolers, electrical harness connectors and starter relay located on top of the engine make it a "D" model with this generator. The tubing running from the exhaust stacks along the top of the oil coolers is for the VEDES system (Vehicle Exhaust Dust Ejection System).

The "A" in 2DA is for VEDES equipped. These particular engines were installed in late model M60A1 RISE Passives, M728A1 CEV's and M60A1 AVLB's. M60A0's had only Mechanical brakes and were never issued with the VEDES system. The tank itself has the earlier aluminum air cleaner units too, only the armored units were equipped with VEDES. The Kansas National Guard never had M60A1's, they went from M60A0 to M60A3's. Most likely this pack came from an M60A1AVLB or M728A1 CEV, since they were in the inventory long after the M60's were retired (Joe_D Afv Discussion Board, 02/2015).

⁶⁴⁶ Also has A3012 stamped on tow lug. Possibly one of the M60A3 pilots. Has all the ID features of such a vehicle. Early Detroit produced A3's had "A3" stamped before the serial number to ID them as such. The numbers also corresponded with Pilot SN 011, RN JJ0301. All I can guess is sometime this tanks SN got changed when inventoried/transferred to another unit, or during rebuild/refurbishing. Probably because A3 012 looks like A3012 and someone assumed she was 3012A. Just another example of how aggravating it can be to track these tanks by Serial Number. SN, Location and Coordinates by Joe Daneri, Afv Discussion Board 04/2009

⁶⁸⁹ This tank carries the WD number T335001, making it the 101st Comet built at the British Leyland plant in December 1944 (Craig Moore). It was a tank of 3 Troop, 2nd Fife & Forfar Yeomanry which served in Germany in April-May, 1945 (Barry Weston). It is also one of the 8 Comet sold by the UK to Ireland in the 1960s, this is confirmed by the number plate on the rear of the turret basket (Anthony Ryan). She is marked as a tank belonging to the 35rd Royal Tank Regiment (RTR) in the 29th Armoured Brigade of the 11th Armoured Division in 1945. It was the only Brigade to be totally equipped with the Comet tank before war ends. She is painted in British standard camouflage colour 15 (SCC 15) green. During restoration it was found that she had been painted SCC 61 light stone at some point in her service possible due to a deployment in Egypt with the British Army (Craig Moore). This vehicle was part of the Budge Collection (UK) before it was scattered. It was then part of Jacques Littlefield Collection. The entire Littlefield collection was donated to the Collings Foundation, and only 80 of the 240 vehicles of the collection are now displayed in a museum in Hudson, MA. The other vehicles were sold in an auction in August 2014

⁶⁹⁰ Formerly part of the Military Vehicle Technology Foundation (Littlefield collection), before this tank was part of the Budge Collection before the collection was scattered

⁶⁹¹ Formerly at the National War and Resistance Museum, Overloon, The Netherlands. Model 1943, SN by Lesley Delsing, Afv Discussion Board, 06/2012.

⁶⁹² Built by Cadillac in December 1944. Former French army

⁶⁹³ Built by Fisher in May '45

⁶⁹⁴ Built by Chrysler in July, 1942 (USA AFVs register). This tank is also a late production vehicle (without side doors). Jacques Littlefield was not able to find a real Lee MG cupola, so he added one from a Canadian built Ram tank (JoeDeMarco). This vehicle was part of Jacques Littlefield Collection in California. The entire Littlefield collection was donated to the Collings Foundation, and only 80 of the 240 vehicles of the collection are now displayed in a museum in Hudson, MA

⁶⁹⁵ Built as an M10A1 by Fisher in February, 1943 with SN 1888. M36B2 Serial Number 1498, converted by ALCO in June, 1945. It is an ex-Yugoslavia Army vehicle. Formerly at Danbury and Old-Bethpage.

⁶⁹⁶ Used to sit in front of 2nd Tank HQ's at Camp Lejeune NC. Before that was a moving target for the LAW range there. She was equipped with a blade before. You can see one of the brackets welded for it below the right drivers periscope. At one point they installed T107 track and sprockets on her from an M88 or M103A2. Has the armored air cleaners too, not an A3 upgrade. Most likely done for use on the LAW range. Nice to see her indoors. Only 6 M48A3's in the US. This is the only one not located on a Military installation. Was last rebuilt at Anniston FEB 1971 for the USMC (Joe Daneri on Facebook).

⁷²⁹ AAD rebuild.

⁷³⁰ Built by Chrysler in September, 1943. M4(105) pilot model, completed in February, 1944

⁷³¹ AAD rebuild. SN identified by the TACOM Central Registry (8/2007)

⁷³² This tank is definitely an odd ball. Hull has small drivers hatch and does not have the turntable opening for the M24IR drivers night sight. All M103's had the night sight, part of BII. Makes her one of the early T43/43E1 tanks that didn't get upgraded to M103 standards. RN number is bogus, missing a digit and all wrong. Shame, might help ID her. Of the initial batch of T43E1's all but 6 were converted to M103. The remaining 6 we kept for testing. Some hulls were used for experimental turrets like the T57 and T58. Others for testing upgrades to automotive and turret improvements eventually for use in M103A1 and A2 Tanks. Based on these pictures I'd bet the hull was one of those 6 and eventually was used to test the AVDS-1790 set up used in the M103A2. The turret looks like an M103A1. Cupola and lack of searchlight fittings indicate so, but with these pictures I can confirm it's not an M103A2. The bulge located under the turret bustle where the gunner was originally located in the M103 is complete. When they converted M103's to A1's they moved the gunner forward but the bulge remained. When upgraded to M103A2 standards they had to cut part of the bulge off and plate it over in order for it to clear the newer, higher rear deck. This one isn't cut. Just wish I had a better image of the sight housing opening and top of turret. There is an odd chance this tank started off as a T43E1, then was used to make one of the pilot T43E2/M103A1's, then eventually was used to test the M103A2 diesel setup. Also could be they stuck this excess M103A1 turret on this hull that was used for all sorts of experiments. That's the problem with the standard 85" turret ring. You can plop any turret with the same diameter on it for display, Covers M48's all the way to M1A2SEP version whatever. JoeD, Afv Discussion Board, 09/2013

⁸⁴⁶ Early Newark produced tank. This one still retained all the old mounts and equipment for installing the M2 Flex .50 cal, to include both interrupters and the barrel stowage clip. She also was originally equipped with the Crouse-Hinds searchlight, and still has the lower stowage bracket welded below the turret blower housing. The early tanks equipped with this light also had a grounding lug welded on top of the turret, which has been removed but the scars were very visible. The most interesting find was the bore evacuator locking ring. She still has the original style used with the UK supplied tubes (Joe_D).

⁹⁹⁹ This was one of the twenty Fisher Body Grand Blanc, MI built T26E3s that were shipped on an emergency basis to Europe before the tank had been fully tested by the US Army. Much of the testing was done by the tankers that operated them in Europe, and the twenty tanks were what was known at the "Zebra Mission." Serial numbers 27, 28, 35 and 39 participated in the taking of the Remagen Bridge Germany on March 7, 1945.

¹⁰⁹⁰ RN? identified by the TACOM Central Registry (8/2007).

¹⁰⁹¹ Built in February, 1943. The M4A3 "Sherman" tank outside the New York State Military museum was formerly a display piece at the New York State Armory in Carthage, N.Y. prior to the armory closure. The tank sat outside the armory for approximately 20 years. The specific history of this vehicle has been lost. Presumably the tank was used by New York National Guard Soldiers of the 27th Armored Division or the 42nd Infantry Division during the 1950s.

¹²¹⁵ C-22, an M109, self-propelled 155mm howitzer, was built by Allison Division of General Motors in 1967. It entered the U.S. Army inventory on 6 Jan 1968 and was received at Letterkenny Army Depot 16 Feb 1968. C-22 was shipped to Vietnam 1 May 1968 and was issued to 6th FA BN, 1st INF DIV, on 22 June 1968. On the night of 28 Oct 1968, at Fire Support Base Rita in the Fish Hook area in RVN, in a heavy barrage of recoilless rifle and rocket propelled grenade fire, C-22 was hit by an RPG round causing the damage which you see on the left side. Four days later C-22 was instrumental in repelling a heavy ground attack by a North Vietnamese sapper battalion supported by intense rocket and mortar barrages. It was during this action that LTC Charles C. Rogers, now Brigadier General, earned the Medal of Honor. During this intense battle, the U.S. forces suffered 12 men killed and 54 wounded. The enemy body count inside and on the perimeter wire was 27. It was estimated that there were at least 200 bodies lying in the woods around the FSB. C-22 served with the 6th FA BN until 13 Nov

¹²³¹ Former M60A1 SN 4018. GEN 2 hull with large escape hatch and late casting A1 turret. Some one had stenciled a bogus USMC registration number (579008) on the side. This tank was a former National Guard vehicle before retirement and had all the usual late model Anniston features to include the M68A1 105mm gun and forward thermal shroud as initially used on the M1. Also had modified torsion bar anchor plugs fitted with grease zerks. Typical late MWO done at MATE sites (Joe_D, Afv Discussion Board, 02/2015).

¹⁴⁸⁰ The tube turned out to be a standard M68 105mm forged at Watervliet Arsenal NY in 1971. Only reason I can think it wasn't rifled would be it failed a magnaflux or similar non destructive testing prior to "Broaching". The tank is an interesting time capsule, being she missed out on many upgrades. One major one was the installation of the M32 (GNR) and M36 (TC) sights and VSS-1 Searchlight Installation Kit with all the ancillary guards, mounts, and connectors. The inside looks like she had a fire in the left front hull, and might explain why. The lack of upgrades leads me to believe this fire happened early in her life and subsequently was "Retired" or "Coded Out". Someone decided at one time to fix her up for a unit mascot, would also explain the tube and the engine with a rebuild date of 1972. The gunners sight housing is the original Non IR type. Also no searchlight guards are present and the top center mount has not been modified for the VSS-1. TC's cupola is still set up for the earlier M28C periscope. Also from this angle you can see the power receptacle with a single 24vdc plug as used by the older Crouse-Hinds units (Joe Daneri on Facebook).

Anniston until they, along with an M551, M60A1, and M47, were pulled from the Army CMH (Center for Military History) lot and sent to Gowen field Idaho to be used as targets. She is the only one that was saved. The A-Ducece and her program is why we have electronic fire control systems coupled with laser rangefinders and fully stabilized turrets. Biggest obstacle to her (and the M551) fielding was developing a usable combustible main gun round. Advancements in Nitro-Cellulose casings were made in combination with an effective scavenge system solved this. This led to our current 120mm rounds. The next major obstacle was getting the fully stabilized turret/cupola to work. This was solved by Chrysler Engineers and Army Missile Command at Redstone Arsenal. The results also gave us Add On Stabilization for the M60A1. All this Tech was used with the MBT-70/XM-803 project. All of this led to the M1(Joe Daneri).

¹⁵⁸¹ Identified by Joe_D

¹⁵⁸² Former Military Vehicle Technology Foundation, sold by Auctions America on July 11-12, 2014

¹⁵⁸³ This tank was previously on display at the Musée des blindés, canons et instruments de Justice of Geneva, Switzerland (Chris Shillito) and after that at Utah Military and Armament Museum, Tooele, UT

¹⁵⁸⁴ The tank was built in the United States and then sold to the Kingdom of Jordan and was one of 197 M48 and 200 M48A1 tanks that county received beginning in the mid-1960s. Many Jordanian tanks saw combat during the Six Day War with Israel in 1967. It is unknown where this particular tank was assigned at the time. When newer tanks like the M60 became available, Jordan retired many of its M48s. This tank was a gift to the Flying Heritage Collection from the Royal Tank Museum in Aqaba, Jordan (Randy Malmstrom on facebook).
